JOE CUSHIONBERRY WAS IDENTIFIED

Attempted to Assault Her.

Madisonville, Ky., Aug. 7. - Joe Cushionberry, tho negro who was arrested Monday on the change attempted assault, was identified by his vietim, Miss Myrtle Fugate, this morning about 9 o'clock. He was placed in line with three other negroes but was positively identified in the presance of Commonwealth Attorney J. L. Grayot, County Judge Wilson and others.

"That is the man, I can tell him by his webbed hands and his clothes," were Miss Fugate's words almost immediately upon seeing the negro.

Considerable excitement was aroused when it became known that the negro had been identified and many threats were heard and to prevent "Judge Lynch" from trying him he was taken to Henderson and placed in jail. There has been mob talk indulged in all day in and around Madisonville.

Judge Gordon held an examining trial of the coon yesterday but as we go to press we were unable to learn the outcome.

A QUIET WEDDING

Yesterday Morning Was That of Miss Landram to Coi. Balley

Yesterday morning at eight o'elock at the residence of Mr. G. W. Landram, father of the bride, Miss Ora Evelyn Landram was mairied to Col. F. N. K. Bailey, of Edgefield, S. C., in the presence of only a few friends. Rev. W. C. Hayes officiated.

Miss David Cowper and Capt. R. B. Cain and Miss Emma Shemwell and Ensign C. E. Landram were the attendants, and Miss Edua Presnell played Mendehlson's wedding mareu.

After the eeremony the party at once took carriages for the boat landing and left on the Royal for Paducah to which point Mrs. V. D. Presnell, sister of the bride, accompanied them. From Paducah Col. Bailey and bride will go to Cineinnati and Cleveland, Ohio, and to Niagara Falls and other points east, on an extended bridal tour, after which they will be at home in Edgefield, S, C., and begin school work in the South Carolina Co-Educational Institute of which Col. Bailey is owner and manager.

The apparatus and other equipment for the work in physles, chemistry, and natural history are exceptionally good for a small high school. There is also a good library and a reading room with current newspapers and magazines.

The agricultural work of the co includes botany, with special referen to variation, development of spe hybridization, and the influence light, heat, moisture, etc., on the p solis and tillage; plant physiolog farm crops, grain judging, and hord ment, including farm plans, metho of cropping, farm machinery and its care, and rural economies with special reference to the problems of husiness nature that will be met on th farm; animal production and stock judging, and dalrying. The teacher of agriculture reports that the implement dealers have given further evidence of their interest in the agricultural course by offering prizes aggregating $112 in value for a grain-judging contest, open to all young men in the country, and that these prizes have been supplemented by a $15 suit of clothes from a clothing dealer. Con-tinuing, he says: "I am well pleased with the way the boys take hold of the work. Out of 70 hoys we have 9 enrolled in the agricultural course, and I think most of the first-year boys will take it up when they get to it in the course. It is proving popular in the rehool and entirely free from the pre-Judice I had anticipated at the outset."

This is the nucleus of an important experiment in education. Norton is just in the edge of the great semiarid region of the Middle West. Agricultural practice in that region differs materially from that of the more humid regions on the one hand and from that of the irrigated districts on the other. The teacher of agriculture is thoroughly familiar with the agriculture of the region, and has but recenty graduated from an agricultural college which is devoting much study to the problems of the hundredth meridsextensive. Here one man works as much land as four or five men in the East: he cultivates three rows of corn at one crossing of the field, and does other things on nn equally extensive this method of farming possible. It is therefore of the greatest importance hat much attention to farm machinery be given in the agricultural course at the Norton County High School

The county superintendent of schools lirected to this lack in the curriculum has expressed the hope that the school of the high school by the experience may also do much work that will be of a young man who came to the school of immediate practical benefit to the from one of the many large farms in agriculture of the country, such as the vicinity, took the four-year husi- testing seeds for viability, or germinness course, spent one year in a local ating power, and milk and cream for bank at $30 a month, and then con-butter fat; treating oats and wheat

NO FARMING TAUGHT.

Previous to this year the Norton County High School has offered college preparatory, normal, business and ger eral selence courses, but no course lated in any direct way to the leading ndustry of the county-farming. The county superintendent of schools said that his attention had been forcibly lirected to this lack in the curriculum of the high school by the experience of a young man who came to the school from one of the many large farms in the vicinity, took the four-year busi-order was the first of innovations. The locality, famed for its health-giving properties, offers peace and immunity from the world, in a few hotels and annitoriums. Two or three American millionaires have erected summer homes on near-by full tops and several families of the aristocracy of Plerence spend the hot months here in fendal strongholds.

The shooting box of the ancient Medici fumily, where the American poet fived and died, is occupied by his daughter; and Julian Story, because the spot is endeared to him through his father's memory, has built on a farm of many acres a great square tower and hall. Compiglioni is the when the grasshopper feeds on the hen, farm, and Torre Di Campiglioni is the home, which signifies the happy abode of art and good fellowship.

Mr. Story points pictures, and ipends his energy wherever his por trait commissions may take him while his wife is singing. To the visiting friend of the singer the 20 mile trip from Florence was a fitting approach to her beautiful retreat. The road which eventually led up to the terrace of il Torre was tied in bowknots, and worked out like a puzzle. The puzzle was soived, however, and in the open living room or "loggia," Mr. Story gave me hearly welcome.

Nervous Worn-Out

If you are in this condition, your nerve force is weak-the power is giving out, the organs of your body have "slowed up," and do their work imperfectly. This failure to do the work required, clogs the system and brings distress and disease. When the nerves are weak the heart is unable to force the life-giving blood through your veins; the stomach fails to digest food; the kidneys lack power to filter impurities from the blood, and the poisonous waste remains in the system to breed disease. Nerve energy must be restored. Dr. Miles' Nervine will do it, because it strengthens the nerves; it is a nerve medicine and tonic, that rebuilds the entire nervous system.

"Several years ago I was all broken "Several years ago I was all broken down. I was heryous, worn-out, could not sleep, and was in constant pain. I declored for months, and itself the doctor said he could do nothing for me. I began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine, and used allogether eight bottles, and I became strong and healthy, and now weigh 170 pounds."

Nervous Worn-Out

If you are in this condition, your nerve force is weak-the power is giving out, the organs of your body have "slowed up," and do their work imperfectly. This failure to do the work required, clogs the system and brings distress and disease. When the nerves are weak the heart is unable to force the life-giving blood through your veins; the stomach fails to digest food; the kidneys lack power to filter impurities from the blood, and the poisonous waste remains in the system to breed disease. Nerve energy must be restored. Dr. Miles' Nervine will do it, because it strengthens the nerves; it is a nerve medicine and tonic, that rebuilds the entire nervous system.

Just when to pick is one of the secrets of the trade which all orchardis do not appreclate. The time of ing red apples is commonly guaged by their color and that of yellow apples by the color of the seed. The latter is the only reliable test . ripeness, for an apple picked just as the ds have turned a light brown, and they become dark around the dges, will be gund to have not only full flavor, but the best keeping qual ity. But red apples are often left for some time after the seeds in licate ma. I turity to allow them to put on mor color, which they do rapidly under the influence of the bright days and frosty nights of autumn; and ladeod this is the only way of obtaining color on fruit in the shady portlens of the tree. Growers should bear in mind, however, that to defer picking after the seeds Indicate ripeness, invites watercore and shortens the life of the fruit in storage, often to a series extent with the midwinter varities

TOO LATE PICKING

Much of the complaint recently added against the Jonathan because of rotting at the core, according to a report of the idaho Experiment Sta tien, is believed to be attributable to late picking. Unless this trouble is corrected the sale of this valuable varlety is sure to be hurt. The purchaser is completely deceived by the perfect appearance of the fruit, not a sign of decay being visible until it is cut open, when the flesh for some distance about the core is discovered to be brown, radiating in narrow rays towards the skin, which, however, it sel-dom reaches. It is worse than a worm hole, for that can be cut out. A box containing even a few such specimens makes the consumer distrustful of the variety, while half or more sickens even the most enthusiastic frient of "Brether Jonathan."

Few farmers are considered capat's of packing their own apples, as the atatement is made that, as regards seeing worm holes, their eye-sight is deficient. Where there is a fruit union, the Idaho bulletin suggests that a rule should be adopted forbidding any members thereof from doing their own picking, but, they should profit by the employment of the same body of trained pickers successively at the various orchards. Even the isolated growers should endeavor to have a group of expert pickers, and employ the same ones, as far as possible, year after year. This is the way to build up a reputation that has a grea cash

value. PACKING IN BARRIELS

While the simplest method of packing apples is the old barrel of the east in which the bottom and top are faced, the upples in the middle being simply poured in, this is a slavenly, not to say deceitful method, for it requires no grading expert to sort out the best ones for facing. The Western box method, on the other hand, is more desirable, especially in eases where one wishes to cater to the fancy traile. One of the pretty points about the box package is that the exact number of apples contained therein is always known, and if stamped on the box as It should be, gives information much appreclated by the buyer. Of course this only applies where the packer adopts one particular method of placing the apples in the box.

A prominent orchardist made the on a ladder in an orchard. Where bags are used, as is commonly the cale, they should be line! with burlage though this should not cause any relaxation of care in placing fruit in them. Bags are open to the objection that the fruit in them is easily bruised where the bag brushes against a limb or ladder. The usual form of packing does not admit of removing the fruit except by pouring, and this is objectionable. The hottomless sack overcomes this difficulty as it allows the fruit to roll from the bottom when the chain is Such treatment might do with oranges, but with apples-never. The average picker could never withstand the temp tation to let them shoot from the hag the moment the foreman's back was turned.

THE TEACHER.

Principles of teaching

4 The Principle of illustration.

a 1 se familiar illustrations such as belong to the daily life of the a scholars. b Use such illustrations that point clearly to the truth indicated. the crime. Don't use an illustration that will call the scholar's attention away from truth to the illustration itself.

Never let a child see an object until you are ready to use it. As tehe matter you put on the blackboard grow as you teach. Chile illustrations are helpful to any age or capacity, yer chilm more than adults. Tall he best possible illustrations of scripture lessons are to be the scripinges themselves.

The Principle of Repetition. a No mind can reta n everything taught at the first impression. h A little learned so that you can use it better than a great mass confused information c. Reviews deepen the impressions so that the mind is able to retain and express the truths taught.

d. The review gives the teacher a chance to correct any errors, the scholars have imbibed.

e The review gives the teacher an opportunity to supplement the scholar's knowledge with anything needful. I Review! Review! Review! This is the rule. The teacher should begin with a review and close with a summary of the lesson. The superintendent should not fail to have a review sometime during the session of the Sunday School. Then, of course, there must be the Quarterly Review.

SEARCH QUESTIONS.

lons since he has engaged in this Widow Bidwell refused the matrimoork the cowboys who hang him have allal offer tendered her by Editor Flint of the Weekly Clarion and Fergus County Advertiser. Editor Flint had owned and edited the Plarion for many he is supposed to be than the years. He had never married by use he had been too busy making up and werking off his edition of 600 copies, getting up and printing anction bills, writing thrilling local notices of wood wanted on subscription and other matters connected with a weekly journal of twenty years ago. Some of his esteemed contemporaries sneeringly remarked now and then that he stole his elitoriais, but when it came down to writing ont an auction bill they yielded

"Auction! Auction!" read the average hill. "Take notice that on the 14th of September Beorge Styles, a hospital having a broken skull farmer, will sell at joibile vendue all the live stock and other personal property on his farm on the Red Bridge road. Said stock consists of horses, cows, sheep and ings and about 100 hems and geese. Sale to begin at 10 a. m., and all will go to the highest

> There was no doubt about the succeas of the Plarion as a newspaper or about the success of Editor Flut as an editor. When he finally made up his enug, however. The widow had been oldiged to turn to dressmaking since her tinstand's death, and she did not rank with the Four Hundred of the village, but she was a lover of poetry and she had drenns of poets. While this kept her grocery bill down, it interfered considerably with her getting out orders on time, and she enjouinted that one about offset the other

The poetry loving widow had had tifty different pactic effusions published in the Ligrian over the nom de plume of Flossle, but Mr. Plint had received the copy with a grunt, and the public had recovered from the shock each time thin twenty-four

The "poems" had been published to save carrying dead advertising. Mrs. Itldwell was rather surprised when the editor dropped in an her one evening and proceeded to say that he wanted her for the mistress of his house, but she soon ralifed and muswered that there was an insurmountable barrier between them. He didn't look like a poet. She knew what he could do in the way of an auction bill, but the man who wed Plessie must look the part. She would attend to the poeiry as heretofore, but be must at least have loug halr, au nesthetic face and dreamy eyes.

The editor saw at once that he couldn't fill the bill. He wore his hair short, had a fat fine, and his eyes were on the lookout for delinquent subscribers instead of looking into the fur away. He therefore picked up his hat and walked back to the office.

However, the Iron had entered Mr. Filmt's soul. He had had his fortyyear-old heart at a woman's feet, and she had spurned it. Tie elther wanted to commit snielde or seeme revenge, plant was worth about $1,000 he decided to hang ou to earth. The first in-stallment of his revenge was shown in his next issue, when he saids "We take pleasure in informing our under the name of Flossie, has just of a and left ber a fortune estimated at 100,000. She has our heartlest congraniations."

Of course the public fead the item, and of course the widow, read it. There nnd of course the widow read it. There wasn't a word of truth in it, but when people came and showered their congratulations she couldn't bring hersek to deny the story. The was even thank in to the Clarlen for publishing the canard. The issue of the following week pure in the matter further.

"We under ad," it said, "that the course left to the Widow Bldwall by fortune left to the Widow Bidwell by her deceased brother in the west will go 50,000 better man at first reported. There are reports affort that she will

Even the fat and henithy editor ind to admit that. The caller wanted to insert a small ad, and ask about the Widow Bldwell. He had seen the notices in the Clarion about her legacy, and he funted a few pointers.

Wiltor Pilnt praised the woman who and Jumped on his bleeding heart. Aye, he spoke in highest terms of her, and even told Mr. Harold De Lisle how he could get an introduction to her, Then the third issue said

We had a pleasant ead the other day from Mr. Harold & Lisle, who has just made a million dollars out of Pennsylvania oll We understand that te may remain in our village for some favs. indeed, Dame Rumor is consecreting tils name with that of n rich and prominent widow on Chestunt

Mr. Do Lisle was dnly introduced to the Widow Bidwell. She had no sooner set eyes on him than her heart began to judplinte. The poet had come. He looked and dressed the part. He also acted it. Nothing was said of her dressmaking on the one hand nor of his out business on the other. They bilked of somets and poems and idyls, and the widow was not in the hotel dining room to note the quantity of corned beef and cabbage he got away

There was a fourth notice in the Clarion. The spurned editor hadn't much to do with anction bills just then, and he had time to keep track of affairs on Thestont street. He had been told that Mr. Harold De Lisie was only a traveling agent for a gang of eastern swindlers, but he wasn't going to say so. Dif the coutrary, what

In other words, Mr Harold De Lisle prevailed upon the charming Wildow was attacked by a panther. His sister, not much older, ran to his assistance and the panther backed off a man and wife in a very impressive ceremony. The happy ounic left for Chiengo immediately after, but may return next week to prepare for the jaunt

Ten days later the bride returned and at once notified all old enstoners that business wits to be resumed at the old

Ten days later in a distant state the bridegroom was taiking up Itohemian outs. They had come to an understanding about money matters. They had understood that each had played the confidence game on the other and that they hadn't $200 between them.

Editor Flint of the Ciarion and Fergus County Advertiser sat down and wrote an nuction bill for Farmer Jones and told inm what the price for 200 copies would be, and as he found himself setting it up he found himself saying to himself:

"Oh, I don't know. A don't seem to have so much ache under my vest as I did. I shouldn't wonder if I provered from the blow in time."

Sailor's Story of Jungle Surgery.

"There was this here black Kamerun savage, naked as an admal," said the kallor, "and there waz this explorer in his pretty suit of white daillin', and there witz a Kamerun medlelne mau with a headdress o' human bones. They stood under a palm tree. I sot on a log | and watched em. The medicine man put the right arms of the savage and the explorer close together and theu, Honrishiu' a dull lookiu' knife, he uicks a velu in the white 'nrm and then an artery in the black arm. The blood come a-gushin' aud a-gushin' out of the black arm, and the mollelne man accoped it up in the holler of his haud and ritbbed it into the nicked white arm. He must 'a' rubbed in a plut before he closed the wound. Transfoosion o' blood is what they call it. They say It saves a white man from jungle fever and from all the evils of the mlayma, of the hot swamps, of the damp heat, the rettiu' vegetation. They say Stanley had black blood transfoosed into his'n cight times. That is how he stood Africa, I know it's a common thing for African explorers to go through the transfoosin' process. And I'll toll you a funny thing about it. It
